Lessons Learned

Reflections of Canadian Physician Leaders

Dr. Chris Carruthers, together with the CMA and CSPE, has put together a collection of leadership lessons that will impress and inspire.

Discover how (and why) others have challenged the status quo by finding the answers to these questions.

- Why should I assume a leadership position?
- Are leaders born or made?
- Do I need an MBA?
- Once I accept a leadership post, should I continue to see patients?
- Do I need a mentor? Where can I find one?
- What is the difference between a manager and a leader?
- Why do we need physician leaders?
- Have women physicians shattered the leadership glass ceiling?
